Sir:

In response to the final Office Action dated January 29, 2001, please amend the application as follows.

In the Specification:

The paragraph beginning at page 11, line 4 has been amended as follows:

--To enable user access to and control of the services 110a-110d, the global server 106 may use conventional applets, servlets or agents in a distributed network environment, such as Java™ distributed environment produced by the Netscape Corporation. The global server 106 provides the user's client with access to and control of the service 110a-110d. The global server 106 may redirect the user's client to access the service 110a-110d, the global server 106 may access the service 110a-110d and provide I/O to the client by proxy, or the global server 106 may provide the service 110a-110d itself. These three different modes of access to the services 110a-110d are described with reference to FIGs 8A-8C.--
